

AISATS deploys Ground Support Equipment at Delhi IGI Airport

Air India SATS Airport Services Pvt. Ltd. (AISATS) has further invested 57 crore rupees in new Ground Support Equipment (GSE) at the Delhi IGI Airport. This investment is part of the 85 crore rupees invested in GSE by AISATS in the past one year. The GSE deployed will not only enhance service delivery standards but also improve operational efficiency and compliance with local airport regulations. The equipment will not only ensure smooth handling of flight operations but will also enhance AISATS' capability to handle wider range of aircraft and potential new customer airlines.

Willy Ko, CEO, AISATS said, "Since our incorporation five years ago, we have invested more than 160 crores in ground support equipment. This latest enhancement in our quality service offering in Delhi is in consonance with our commitment towards innovation and efficiency, while never compromising on safety and operational excellence. The massive plough back of 160 crores into our operations is a demonstration of AISATS' full commitment to its customer airlines too. Our current customer and potential customers can appreciate the partnership with us just as we value the partnership with them."
